Dear Parent/Carer

The Chemistry department has updated the way that we make independent study resources available to your son or daughter.

These A Level resources include:

- Kerboodle - The digital teaching, learning and assessment service from Oxford University Press.
 - This is where students can access topic checklists, the text book as well as extra support and assessment material related to the course.
- Microsoft Teams - A chat based workspace in Office 365 that can be used to share content as well as allowing students to collaborate with each other. This area contains important resources such as:
 - Banks of past exam questions with mark schemes and examiner reports
 - The OCR Specification and up to date sample assessment material
 - Detailed information about and video links to the required practical activities

Kerboodle requires a student login, which will be emailed to students at the start of the year. Sadly, we cannot provide separate parent logins for these services.

The department will also be making a bulk order of A Level Revision Guides. Each of the guides are published by Co-ordination Group Publications (CGP) and would normally retail at £19.95 per subject. By purchasing copies in bulk we can obtain the guides for the reduced price of £9.00 per copy.

To purchase a copy please complete and return the reply slip overleaf with your payment in cash, by cheque (made payable to The Norton Knatchbull School), with your son/daughter's name on the reverse, or by using the School's on-line payment facility. Please tick the appropriate box on the reply slip for your chosen payment option and return it to Student Reception.

Your son/daughter will be notified via the Student Bulletin when revision guides are available for collection.

Kind regards

Ms C Duncalf
